A 10-POINT TRUST DIAGNOSTIC FOR YOUR WEBSITE

The Pre-Sold Prospects Audit

Find out how many good prospects your website is silently losing — before you lose another one.

This isn't a design checklist.

It won't tell you your fonts are wrong or your logo needs work. It's a trust diagnostic — it tells you whether your website does the one job that matters: making a serious prospect feel understood and safe enough to reach out, before they ever get on a call with you.

The prospects you're losing almost never tell you why. They don't email to say "your website didn't convince me." They just go quiet, or call your competitor instead. The loss never shows up as a number — it just shows up, eventually, as revenue that never arrived.

is roughly how fast a first impression of your website forms — about 94% of it design-related.

83%

of visitors decide if a site is credible within 20 seconds of landing on it.

75%

abandon a business whose website looks outdated — regardless of the work itself.

HOW TO USE THIS

Set aside 30–40 minutes. Open your own website in another tab. Be honest, not hopeful — score what's actually there, not what you meant to put there. Total your score at the end.

The 10-Point Audit

Score each point 0 (missing), 1 (attempted but weak), or 2 (nailed).

01 The 5-Second Test

Does your homepage headline name your exact ideal client and their specific problem — or could it be sitting on any competitor's site with the logo swapped?

SCORE: _____ / 2

02 The Proof-Before-Promise Test

Do you show evidence a skeptical prospect can actually check — a real process, a real guarantee, real work samples, a live demo — or do you mostly just claim to be good?

SCORE: _____ / 2

03 The Objection Pre-Empt Test

Does your site answer, unprompted, the 2–3 objections a serious prospect is silently thinking before they'll message you?

SCORE: _____ / 2

04 The Single Path Test

Is there one obvious next step on every page — or does a visitor have to figure out whether to call, email, fill a form, or DM you?

SCORE: _____ / 2

05 The Zero-Friction Contact Test

Can a ready prospect reach you in one click — WhatsApp, a booking link, a call button — or do they have to find a contact page and wait for a reply?

SCORE: _____ / 2

06 The Patience Test

Does your site load in under ~3 seconds on a normal phone connection — or have you actually timed it?

SCORE: _____ / 2

07 The Findability Test

If someone is actively searching for exactly what you offer, in your area — can they actually find you (Google Business Profile claimed and current, basic local SEO in place)?

SCORE: _____ / 2

08 The Risk-Reversal Test

Is there anything on your site that removes the prospect's risk of choosing wrong — a guarantee, transparent terms, a "see it before you commit" option?

SCORE: _____ / 2

09 The Outcome-Over-Feature Test

Does your copy talk mostly about what you do — or about the outcome your client's own customers actually feel afterward?

SCORE: _____ / 2

10 The Stranger Test

Hand your homepage to a stranger for 20 seconds. Can they say back, unprompted, who it's for and why they'd reach out — in one sentence?

SCORE: _____ / 2

Your Score

TOTAL: _____ / 20

0-8

Silent Loss zone. Good, qualified prospects are almost certainly choosing competitors right now.

9-14

Leaking, not broken. Specific gaps are costing you bookings at the moments that matter most.

15-20

Close to your ceiling. The highest-leverage lever left is probably reach, not conversion.

Your 20-Minute Action Checklist

One action per audit point, in the same order. You don't need all ten today — start with whichever one you scored lowest.

- ☐ Rewrite your homepage headline to name your exact ideal client and their specific problem.
- ☐ Add one piece of real, checkable proof above the fold — a guarantee, a real number, a live demo link.
- ☐ Write out your top 2–3 objections and answer them directly on the page.
- ☐ Pick ONE primary action and repeat it on every page — remove competing buttons and links.
- ☐ Add a one-click contact method — WhatsApp or a booking link — not just a contact form.
- ☐ Time your site on a phone, on mobile data. Fix anything over 3 seconds to load.
- ☐ Claim or update your Google Business Profile — current hours, photos, and services.
- ☐ Add a real guarantee or risk-reversal statement near your main call to action.
- ☐ Rewrite your top 3 feature bullets as outcomes your customer feels, not deliverables you provide.
- ☐ Get one honest stranger to read your homepage for 20 seconds and repeat back who it's for.

WHERE THIS COMES FROM

We built this from the same 10-part discovery process we run, in full, for every client before we design or write a single page of their website.

- Senior-only delivery. One person designs, one person builds. No account manager, no junior handoff.
- A published, day-by-day process, agreed and fixed before work starts.
- A fixed price in writing before work starts. No hourly billing, no setup fees.
- A "late means free" guarantee, with its actual conditions published.
- A free, live demo built with your own logo and real details, before you pay anything.

WHO WE WORK WITH

We work with six kinds of businesses where a serious buyer has to be visually convinced before they'll call: interior designers & architects, real estate agents & property consultants, dental & aesthetic clinics, wedding photographers & event planners, home renovation & modular kitchen studios, and coaches & consultants selling high-ticket programs. If that's not you but your website isn't converting the traffic it gets, we're still worth a conversation.

If this audit turned up more than one or two real gaps, let's talk.

We'll walk through your specific scores and show you exactly what a fix would look like — with a live demo built on your own details before you decide anything. No pitch deck, no pressure.
